Atlanta Postal Credit Union Donates Over $15,000 to Children's Miracle Network

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE . . . January 8, 2010, Atlanta, Georgia

Each year, the employees of Atlanta Postal Credit Union (APCU) raise money to help support Children's Miracle Network (CMN). Children's Miracle Network is a non-profit organization dedicated to saving and improving the lives of children by raising funds for children's hospitals across North America. For the past nine years, APCU has proudly participated in fund-raising activities to help support CMN. This year, APCU employees were able to raise more than $15,000 through candy sales and employee donations for Children's Miracle Network.

"Atlanta Postal Credit Union is honored to have had the opportunity to help support Children's Miracle Network again this year. We take great pride in knowing that the funds we raised in 2009 for Children's Miracle Network will go directly to the children's hospitals in the communities that we serve," said Dianne Yost, APCU's Senior VP of Marketing.

About Atlanta Postal Credit Union

A full-service financial institution, Atlanta Postal Credit Union was chartered by the state of Georgia in 1925 to serve the employees of the United States Postal Service. The credit union is the oldest credit union in Georgia and the largest postal credit union in the nation with assets in excess of $2.0 billion. It is a leader in providing both lending and deposit products to its 99,000 members via its six branches, one in Macon and five in Atlanta; and via its Internet Web site at www.apcu.com. The main office is located at 3900 Crown Road, Atlanta, GA 30380-0001.
