CSRA Credit Union Hosts a Blood Drive to Increase Low Supplies

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 21 – CSRA Credit Union hosted a blood drive from a Sheppard Community Blood Center bloodmobile on Wheeler Road Friday, June 11.

Members and employees of CSRA CU donated blood to Sheppard Community Blood Center, which provides blood and blood products for 17 hospitals including Aiken Regional Medical Centers and Augusta VA Medical Center. Donors received tee shirts and were entered to win a $500 summer fun pack.

Left to right: CSRA Credit Union's Rick Chafin, indirect lending officer, Amber Lambert, business development specialist, and Nick Snellings, mortgage/branch service representative, ran the show as members and employees donated blood to increase the community's often low supply count during the summer months.

Division President of CSRA Credit Union, Leah Eldridge said, “We were pleased to participate in the blood drive for Sheppard Community Blood Center. Our community relies on the services of our local blood bank, especially during the summer months. Thank you to everyone who came out and participated.”

Associated Credit Union is headquartered in Norcross and serves over 155,000 members.

Providing low-cost services to its members, ACU is ranked in the top 150 credit unions in the United States.
