IN HONOR OF National Library Week, the Camden County Public Library collected artwork to display in the library's lobby. This year's theme was "Communities Thrive @ Your Library Programs." The artwork was displayed and judged by the patrons during the month of April. The top four selections were presented with an annual family membership from The Cummer Museum of Art & Garden, and MOCA (Museum of Contemporary Art), a monetary award from United 1st Federal Credit Union and Citizens State Bank. The artwork is currently displayed inside the library during the month of May. Pictured are Margie Rose, library staff member, Mitch Freeman, first place, Mona Elias, second place, Gail Nobles, fourth place, and Jennifer Pogue, library staff member. Not pictured is third-place winner Elaine Rose Powierski. (Special to the Tribune & Georgian)
